International Mechanisms Engagement International Mechanisms (IM) engages USHRN membership with international and regional human rights mechanisms, identifying opportunities for local, national, and international policy impact. International Mechanisms promotes and facilitates the participation of members and allies using human rights mechanisms including international reporting and hearings, as well as domestic accountability structures, to advance strategic human rights demands. We led several delegations of members from diverse communities and movements to engage in key UN sessions, to raise the visibility of human rights defenders in the US and issues impacting in the areas of women and gender rights, immigration and separation of families, extreme poverty, racial injustice as it relates to mass incarceration and racial profiling. In addition to leading delegations, USHRN Coordinating Center staff attended certain events when member involvement was not possible. The Commission on the Status of Women, 63rd Session (March 2018), USHRN led a side event sponsored by USHRN and SustainUS Truth to Power. The Struggle for Youth Empowerment (March 21, 2018) Human Rights Council, 38th Session (June 2018), USHRN and our partner the ACLU co-sponsored a side event. Poverty in the United States and the Exacerbation of Inequality in the Age of Trump with the following member panelists: Philip Alston, UN Special Rapporteur on Extreme Poverty and Human Rights, Natasha Lycia Ora Bannan, Associate Counsel, LatinoJustice PRLDF, Catherine Flowers, Rural Development Manager, Equal Justice Initiative, Founder and Executive Director, Alabama Center for Rural Enterprise, Jandi Craig, White Mountain Apache, Continental Network of Indigenous Women of the Americas, Rosa Martha Zarate, Alianza de ex Braceros del Norte (1942-1964), Chrisfino Kenyatta Leal, Business Development Strategist, The Last Mile Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, 11th Session (July 2018). Intergovernmental Working Group on the Effective Implementation of the Durban Declaration and Programme of Action, 16th Session (August 2018). USHRN staff attended the session to specifically engage "Item 9: consideration of the elaboration of a draft United Nations Declaration on the promotion and full respect of human rights of people of African descent." During the session, they attended an informal meeting with "Friendly States", as well as met with and when requested, provided guidance to the civil society representatives also in attendance. To enhance the presence of our members at such events, the Network created and applied a strategy for engagement which aims to ensure members that travel to advocate at the UN will take the UN floor, coordinate and present at one or more side-events, and hold a press conference. If applicable, we also help to coordinate Congressional Briefings for members to raise awareness of said issues at the federal level. In conjunction with the final 2018 UN General Assembly session, USHRN coordinated two separate briefings/Listening Sessions for USHRN members in New York. Special Rapporteur on Trafficking in Persons, Dr. Maria Grazia Giammarinaro, Working Group of Experts on People of African Descent, IM Director Roberto Borrero also attended and participated in convenings including briefing sessions organized for Michelle Bachelet, High Commissioner for Human Rights, Felipe Gonzalez Morales, the UN Special Rapporteur on the Human Rights of Migrants, among others. In order to engage members regularly on the topic of international mechanisms, monthly calls were coordinated for the International Mechanisms Steering Committee and the ICCPR Taskforce. On December 6, 2018, a webinar was developed to provide a brief overview of the ICCPR and its review process, as well as opportunities for engagement and to share resources for collaboration and participation in this important treaty compliance process.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Campaigns and Member-Led Campaign Support Human Rights Cities - In 2018, the Network continued providing ongoing technical support to the National Human Rights Cities Alliance, including planning and facilitation of monthly meetings, annual planning and organizing events. The National Human Rights Cities Alliance is a member-led and organized initiative of the US Human Rights Network, supported by the USHRN Coordinating Center, it works to strengthen relationships among human rights city organizers, including grassroots and local advocates for human rights cities, national and international human rights advocates, scholar-practitioners, and others working to advance human rights in the places where people live. The Human Rights Cities Alliance also works to advance knowledge about effective models and practices for local implementation of human rights and to improve methods for reporting and sharing this information. National Coalition for Right to Water and Sanitation - In 2018, USHRN worked with the coalition to reinvigorate it and gather members to advance their work. USHRN convenes a national coalition comprised of over 160 groups and individuals working on the human rights to water and sanitation throughout the United States. The coalition on the human rights to water and sanitation was formed in February 2015, following several key national convenings of people struggling with similar violations of the human rights to water and sanitation. We have come together to facilitate joint organizing and advocacy and share knowledge to create change. The coalition includes national, local, grassroots, and faith-based organizations, as well as educational institutions and law schools. The members of the coalition and the issues they represent span across urban, rural, and indigenous communities from California to Baltimore and everywhere in between. The coalition includes grassroots activists and directly impacted people as well as lawyers and experts on water policy, utilities, legislation, and human rights. International Decade for People of African Descent - In 2018, the Network facilitated conversations in civil society about the campaign to commemorate the International Decade for People of African Descent and the campaign for a Declaration on the Rights of People of African Descent. On October 31, the Network hosted a meeting with members of the Working Group of Experts on People of African Descent (WGEPAD) including Mr. Michal Balcerzak, Chair of the Working Group, Ms. Dominique Day, and Mr. Ahmed Reid. The meeting was held in collaboration with the Anti-Racial Discrimination Section at the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights. Mr. Balcerzak was in New York to present the Working Group's reports to the Third Committee of the General Assembly. In August 2018, USHRN submitted a letter to the State Department expressing concern over delay in filing U.S. report on compliance with anti-discrimination treaty. This letter was filed on behalf of the ACLU, Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law, NAACP, Leadership Conference on Civil and Human Rights, and the US Human Rights Network. It expresses concern over U.S. failure to submit its periodic report to the U.N. Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination (CERD) which was due November 20, 2017. The letter urged the Trump administration to expedite the submission of the U.S. periodic report to the UN Committee and avoid an unprecedented situation where the Committee will have to move forward with the formal review without an official U.S. government report. Migrant caravan petition - In 2018, USHRN petitioned the UN to formally investigate the violation of the rights of migrants and asylum seekers approaching the US border from Central America. Online petition garnered nearly 80,000 signatures. Regional meetings - USHRN hosted regular regional meetings throughout the year, for our members and local human rights activists to convene and discuss their issues. In 2018, we conducted several regional meetings including but not limited to the following: November 3, 2018 - Atlanta, Georgia November 16, 2018 - Phoenix, Arizona December 6, 2018 - Detroit, Michigan Member Campaign Support - In 2018, USHRN provided technical support for individual member organizations as they attempt to either convert their campaigns in to human rights campaigns or advance their existing human rights campaigns.
