The Center has a continuous and bona fide development program that seeks to solicit contributions from the general public, other charitable organizations and governmental units. The funding structure does not lend itself to meeting the public support requirement as it is comprised of several large donors, not numerous small donors. The Board of Directors represent the broad interests of the general public and the Center's mission is to provide services and resources to the public and researchers free of charge. The Organization is aggressively seeking to expand the number of organizations and agencies providing operational funding.
