Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of
ECPAT-USA, Inc.
Brooklyn, New York

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of ECPAT-USA, Inc. which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of ECPAT-USA, Inc. as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 and the changes in its net assets, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of ECPAT-USA, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about ECPAT-USA, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

To the Board of Directors of ECPAT-USA, Inc.

Page 2

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements, including omissions, are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of ECPAT-USA, Inc.'s internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about ECPAT-USA, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2024 and 2023

1. Organization

ECPAT-USA, Inc. (the “Organization”) is a not-for-profit organization committed to ending commercial sexual exploitation of children including trafficking for sexual purposes. It conducts policy development and advocacy, research, and awareness raising activities to protect children trafficked into the U.S., American children who are trafficked and foreign children exploited by Americans who travel abroad.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and conform with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“US GAAP”).

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Net Assets

The Organization reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets based upon the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets of the Organization and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions – Amounts that are not subject to usage restrictions based on donor-imposed requirements. This class also includes assets previously restricted where restrictions have expired or been met. This category may also include amounts designated by the Board of Directors.

Net Assets with Donor Restrictions – Assets subject to usage limitations based on donor-imposed or grantor restrictions. These restrictions may be time-based or may be based on a particular use. Restrictions may be met by the passage of time or by actions of the Organization. Certain restrictions may require the assets to be maintained in perpetuity.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Organization considers all highly liquid debt instruments, purchased with a maturity of three months or less, to be cash equivalents. Cash equivalents consist of money market account balances.

ECPAT-USA, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2024 and 2023

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Investments

Investments consist of equity securities and a United States treasury bill and are reported at fair market value. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are recognized in the year incurred in the statement of activities.

Promises to Give

Contributions are recognized when the donor makes a promise to give to the Organization that is, in substance, unconditional. Contributions that are restricted by the donor are reported as increases in net assets without donor restrictions if the restrictions expire in the fiscal year in which the contributions are recognized. All other donor-restricted contributions are reported as increase in net assets with donor restrictions depending on the nature of the restrictions. When a restriction expires, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions.

The Organization uses the allowance method to determine uncollectible promises receivable. The allowance is based on prior years' experience and management's analysis of specific promises made.

Property and Equipment

Purchased property and equipment is capitalized at cost. Donations of property and equipment are recorded as contributions at their estimated fair value. Such donations are reported as separate line items within the statement of activities as contributions without donor restrictions unless the donor has restricted the donated asset to a specific purpose. Assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contributions of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as contributions with donor restrictions. Absent donor stipulations regarding how long those donated assets must be maintained, the Organization reports expirations of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired assets are placed in service. The Organization reclassifies net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions at that time. Property and equipment are depreciated using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives ranging from five years for equipment and seven years for furniture and fixtures. There were no donor imposed restrictions on property and equipment as of December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Contributed Services

No amounts have been reflected in the financial statements for donated services. The Organization generally pays for services requiring specific expertise. However, individuals volunteer their time and perform a variety of tasks that assist the Organization, but these services do not meet the criteria for recognition as contributed services.

ECPAT-USA, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2024 and 2023

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Contributions

Contributions received are recorded as net assets with donor restrictions or net assets without donor restrictions depending on the existence or nature of any donor restrictions.

In-kind Contributions

Contributions of donated non-cash assets are recorded at their fair value in the period received. Contributions of donated services that create or enhance non-financial assets or that require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation, are recorded at their fair value in the period received.

Program Revenue

Program revenue primarily consists of educational programs offered by the Organization. The Organization believes it has one performance obligation to the customers participating in these educational programs: to provide educational services regarding commercial sexual orientation of children including trafficking for sex purposes. The Organization believes it satisfies the performance obligation in its normal course of business as the educational services are provided. Revenue is recognized at the time the Organization has a right to invoice the customer, as such billed amounts corresponds directly with the value to the customer of the Organization performance completed to date. The customers are not entitled to refunds.

Income Taxes

The Organization is exempt from federal income taxes under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and has been designated as an organization which is not a private foundation. The Organization recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not to be sustained. Management has determined that the Organization had no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement recognition or disclosure. The Organization is no longer subject to examinations by the applicable taxing jurisdictions for periods prior to 2021.

Allocation of Functional Expenses

The financial statements report certain categories of expenses that are attributable to more than one program or supporting function. Therefore, these expenses require allocation on a reasonable basis that is consistently applied. The expenses that are allocated include salaries and benefits and occupancy which are allocated on the basis of estimates of time and effort.

ECPAT-USA, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2024 and 2023

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Organization to concentrations of credit and market risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents on deposit with financial institutions, investments held at financial institutions and unconditional promises to give. Deposits held at financial institutions insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") are insured up to $250,000. Investment holdings at financial institutions insured by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC") are insured up to $500,000 ($250,000 for cash holdings). At times cash balances may exceed the FDIC and SIPC limit. As of December 31, 2024, the Organization's uninsured cash balances on deposit totaled approximately $520,650.

As of December 31, 2024, the Organization's diversified investment portfolio includes approximately 67% invested in an Exchange Traded Fund at a reputable financial institution. At times investment balances may exceed the SIPC limit. As of December 31, 2024, the Organization's uninsured investment balances totaled approximately $828,160.

The Organization does not have a material concentration of credit risk, with respect to unrestricted promises to give, due to generally short payment terms.

Leases

The Organization adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board Topic 842, Leases, using the effective date method with January 1, 2022, as the date of initial adoption, with certain practical expedients available. The Organization elected the available practical expedient to account for its existing operating leases as operating leases, under the new guidance, without reassessing (a) whether the contracts contain leases under the new standard, (b) whether classification of capital leases or operating leases would be different in accordance with the new guidance, or (c) whether the unamortized initial direct costs before transition adjustments would have met the definition of initial direct costs in the new guidance at lease commencement. The standard had no impact on the Organization's financial statements.

Accounts Receivable and Allowance for Credit Losses

Effective January 1, 2023, accounts receivable are recorded at amortized cost less an allowance for credit losses that are not expected to be recovered. The amount of accounts receivable and corresponding allowance for credit losses are presented on the statement of financial position. The Organization maintains allowances for credit losses resulting from the expected failure or inability of its customers to make required payments. The Organization recognizes the allowance for credit losses at inception and reassesses at every reporting date based on the asset's expected collectability. The allowance is based on multiple factors including historical experience with uncollectible accounts, the credit quality of the customer base, the aging of such receivables and current macroeconomic conditions as well as expectations of conditions in the future, if applicable. The Organization's allowance for credit losses is based on the assessment of the collectability of assets pooled together with similar risk characteristics. There was no allowance for credit losses as of December 31, 2024 and 2023.

ECPAT-USA, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2024 and 2023

The Organization records a provision for expected credit losses using a historical loss-rate method based on the ratio of its historical write-offs to its average accounts receivable. At each reporting period, the Organization assesses whether financial assets in a pool continue to display similar risk characteristics. If particular receivables no longer display risk characteristics that are similar to those of the receivables in the pool, the Organization may determine that it needs to move those receivables to a different pool or perform an individual assessment of expected credit losses for those specific receivables.

The Organization's accounts receivable are short-term in nature and written off only when all collection attempts have failed. If any recoveries are made from any accounts previously written off, they will be recognized in income or an offset to credit loss expense in the year of recovery, in accordance with the Organization's accounting policy election. There were no material write offs to the financial statements as a whole for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023.

3. Restrictions on Net Assets

The Organization's net assets with donor restrictions consists of the following at December 31:

	2024	2023
Program purposes	$ 510,755	$ 538,476
Time restricted	-	25,000
	$ 510,755	$ 563,476

The Organization reclassifies a portion of the contribution from net assets with donor restrictions upon satisfaction of restriction.

4. Promises to Give

Unconditional promises to give without and with donor restrictions consist of donations and are due in less than one year.

ECPAT-USA, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2024 and 2023

5. Liquidity and Availability of Financial Assets

The Organization will rely on future contributions, grants and program revenue to support its ongoing operations.

6. Fair Values of Financial Instruments

The Organization follows U.S. GAAP guidance on Fair Value Measurements which defines fair value and establishes a fair value hierarchy organized into three levels based upon the input assumptions used in pricing assets. Level 1 inputs have the highest reliability and are related to assets with unadjusted quoted prices in active markets. Level 2 inputs relate to assets with other than quoted prices in active markets which may include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities or other inputs which can be corroborated by observable market data. Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs and are used to the extent that observable inputs do not exist.

ECPAT-USA, INC.
